Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-24, drawn to a 2-hydrocarbyl-3,3-bis(4-hydroxyaryl)phthalimidine monomer, classified in class 544, subclass various.
  - II. Claims 25-27 and 30-75, drawn to a polymer comprising units derived from the hydrocarbyl-3,3-bis(4-hydroxyaryl)phthalimidine monomer, classified in class 528, subclass various.
  - III. Claims 28, 29 and 76, drawn to a composition comprising a thermoplastic polymer and the polymer comprising units derived from the hydrocarbyl-3,3-bis(4-hydroxyaryl)phthalimidine monomer, classified in class 525, subclass various.

2. The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product, and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.05(j)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as is in and of itself without the presence of additional reactants, which would result in the production of a mutually exclusive final product, and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct because there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants.

3. Inventions II and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product, and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.05(j)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as a molding composition without the presence of additional ingredients that would react in-situ to produce a mutually exclusive final product and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct because there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. If one of groups II or III is elected, claims 25-76 are generic to the following disclosed patentably distinct species: the various types of polymers derived from the inventive monomer. The election of an ultimate species of polymer (inclusive of specific reactants used to derive it) is requested. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. If group III is elected, claim 28, 29 and 76 are further generic to the following disclosed patentably distinct species: the various materials defining the thermoplastic polymer. The election of an ultimate species of thermoplastic polymer is requested. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
